AGENDA ITEM 2: Composition of the Supervisory Board

After the Annual General Meeting of 21 May 2021, Fieke van der Lecq stepped down from the Supervisory Board following the expiration of her term. At that meeting, the Supervisory Board announced that it was in an advanced stage of recruitment and selection of new Supervisory Board members to succeed Fieke van der Lecq and to strengthen the Board with a member who has particular experience in the field of digitalisation.

2a. Appointment of Ms. Danielle Melis as member of the Supervisory Board *

A vacancy has arisen on the Supervisory Board at the end of the Annual General Meeting of 21 May 2021 following the expiration of Fieke van der Lecq's four year term and her decision not to seek re-appointment. The Supervisory Board would like to nominate Danielle Melis to be appointed as a new member of the Supervisory Board for a term that starts at the close of this Extraordinary General Meeting and ends at the close of Triodos Bank's Annual General Meeting in 2025.

With regard to this appointment, the Works Council has exercised its enhanced right of recommendation and has proposed to the Supervisory Board to nominate Danielle Melis as a member of the Supervisory Board to be appointed in an Extraordinary General Meeting. It is noted that this reinforced recommendation by the Works Council, also reflects the position of the Works Council with respect to Danielle Melis' nomination within the meaning of art. 2:158(4) of the Dutch Civil Code.

The Dutch Central Bank has approved the proposed appointment of the candidate. The Foundation for Administration of Triodos Bank Shares ("SAAT") has been consulted during the selection process.

Note from the Supervisory Board

The Supervisory Board proposes to appoint Danielle Melis as member of the Supervisory Board in particular because of her knowledge of and experience with corporate governance and institutional investment management. Diversity in the composition of the Supervisory Board with respect to educational and professional background, gender and age were taken into account for this nomination decision.

Reasons for Danielle Melis to stand as a candidate

I started my career in the financial sector more than 25 years ago at MeesPierson, and since then my various (expert, senior management and board) roles in the financial sector provided me with valuable insights in the influence of financial institutions on society as a whole and the responsibilities that follow from this influence. Like Rudolf Mees, one of the founding fathers of Triodos Bank, and one of the founders of sustainable banking, I believe in the power of allocating capital responsibly. I personally feel strongly connected to and have witnessed 'finance change' and 'change finance'. Being part of the governance of Triodos Bank provides me with the honour and opportunity to share my knowledge and experience gained in the financial sector and in other communities and organisations with the Triodos community, and at the same time collaborate with others and be challenging and supportive in their actions. As member of the Supervisory Board of Triodos Bank I hope to be able to contribute to the success of Triodos going forward, acting as a trusted board member for all stakeholders, sounding board for the Executive Board, sounding board for the Works Council and representative of Triodos Bank - a unique bank that is faced with complex strategic, financial, operational and leadership challenges ahead. In this world that is in transition, with immense global challenges that require immediate action, Triodos Bank in my view still holds a unique mission, and a special place in the financial sector as both initiator and promotor of sustainable banking. At the same time, in order to continue to be the frontrunner of sustainable banking Triodos Bank needs to be a financially sound and future proof organisation to be able to continue on its mission for generations ahead. That requires important questions to be answered and choices to be made. I would be honoured to contribute to the ongoing ambition of Triodos Bank and challenge its leadership in the years ahead of us.

Reasons for Roelien Ritsema van Eck to stand as a candidate

Growing up in the countryside and having a brother with disabilities, respect for both the Earth and wider social inclusivity are second nature to me. Nowadays I try to instill these values with my three daughters.

After a career in the financial sector, I made the switch to the public sector (education and health care). In both my personal and professional life, I have always tried to focus on 'people, planet and profit'. A very strong ethos to work to. Currently I work in the social housing sector. I manage the precious resources available as efficiently as possible to enable more people to have access to the opportunity to live well in an affordable house. Another priority is in making the housing stock sustainable.

On top of that I try to contribute by working in board positions that contribute and make a difference to people and society. Becoming a member of the Board of SAAT excites me immensely. Particularly a bank can make a difference, with Triodos being a frontrunner of financing positive change.

In terms of diversity, he contributes to the diversity in age, gender and background.

The Board of SAAT is pleased that Tarique Arsiwalla is available to be a member of the Board.

Reasons for Tarique Arsiwalla to stand as a candidate

In the last ten to fifteen years I have been deeply involved in innovations aiming to improve the agri-food chain. My company Protix actively reduces food waste by re-using food leftovers, creating a shorter and circular food chain and reducing pressure on our oceans and tropical rainforests by providing viable alternatives to fish meal and palm oil. As a "cleantech" investor today I actively support innovative start-ups and scale-ups in creating lasting impact. In these roles, I have experienced the incredible importance of believers and supporters, willing to invest both money, time and network to make dreams and impact a reality. I was honoured when I was asked to stand for membership of the Board of SAAT because Triodos also takes this "kickstarter" position. I am excited to contribute to defining the next wave of innovations that will make significant impact. At the same time Triodos needs to remain a financially healthy bank. My experience in banking (ING) and strategic consultancy at McKinsey will be helpful in striking the right balance for a sustainable future.
